GENERAL CHARACTERISTICS OF THE WORK

Research goal is to explore and characterize the structural elements of the concept of "One Belt, One Road" and to reveal the problems and prospects for the development of the concept of "One Belt, One Road".

Research object is the project "One Belt, One Road".

Research subject is the mechanism of the project "One Belt, One Road".

Research methodology is based on the case study method, questionnaire and statistical analysis.

The information base of the study was the work of economists who carried out a deep development of many theoretical and practical problems of planning, the decisions of the Central Control Commission and the Chinese government on China's strategic development, materials of official statistics of countries and enterprises.

The scientific novelty of the master thesis work consists in the development of practical recommendations for improving the realization of the project "One Belt, One Road".

The theoretical and practical significance of the study lies in the fact that the collected materials and the conclusions drawn can be used to improve planning of cooperation within the realization of the project "One Belt, One Road".
