4.4. Complete this article about Vivendi by putting each of the verbs in brackets into the past simple. Most of the verbs are irregular.

VIVENDI: 150 YEARS OF HISTORY

Vivendi, the French utilities and communications group, has a long history going back to 1853. In that year the Government created Compagnie Generale des Eaux. The founders have two objectives: to irrigate the countryside for farming and to supply water to towns and cities in France. In 1880 a treaty gave Generale des Eaux the right to supply water to Venice, and then Constantinople and Oporto soon after. By the time of the centenary celebrations in 1953 Generale des Eaux supplied water to eight million people in France. In the 1960s and 1970s the company began activities in the area of civil construction and built a large tower block in the La Defense business district of Paris. During the 1980s Generale des Eau joined with the Havas media group to create Canal Plus, a pay TV channel. They also took a controlling stake in the civil engineering giant, SGE. In the 1990s they won major contracts in the Asia Pacific region and in Latin America. Jean-Marie Messier became CEO in 1996 and ran the company along American lines. He sold $5 billion in assets and cut the workforce by 10%. All this meant that an annual loss of $600 million turned into a profit of $320 million. In 1998 he changed the name of the group to Vivendi and soon after made a series of partnerships and acquisitions in the telecommunications industry. Operations in North America grew very quickly after this and in 2000 Vivendi bought Seagram to become a truly international media and communications company.

'Um.
Excuse me. Good morning.
Er, good morning. I've called you to this meeting to explain to you all some of the basic health and safety rules that we have here. Um, first of all, working hours: it's not our company policy to make staff work excessive hours - it makes people unproductive and can endanger health. Um, managers (1) ... make any of their staff work more than an average of 48 hours per week, although anyone (2) ... volunteer to work more than these hours, but they (3) ... sign a letter from the company to say that they want to do this. Any member of staff who is worried that they are working too many hours (4) ... speak to their head of department about it.
Um, all employees (5) ... take a minimum of three weeks' paid holiday per year, but you (6) ... take all this holiday off in one block. Staff (7) ... give their head of department as much notice as possible about their holidays, although they (8) ... send their holiday form off to personnel until a few weeks before they go.
Next, er, fire drills. We have a fire drill about once a month - don't ignore it. You (9) ... leave the building immediately that you hear the bell, and of course you (10) ... block the fire exits. Fire notices are posted throughout the building. Employees (11) ... read these notices regularly. In the case of a real fire, don't panic and follow the fire procedures.
And lastly, for you smokers, I'm afraid that smoking is not permitted anywhere inside the building, although you (12) ... smoke just outside the front door.
I think that covers everything. Does anyone have any questions?'

Object Market Update Cc

Message
Stocks in the US have come (1) down a little since I last contacted you, but in general the economy is healthy and the Fed will put (2) … interest rates if growth is too fast. I think they'll probably put this decision (3) … until the third or fourth quarter. The real danger is with telecomms, which have really fallen (4) … the other sectors. Basically, the telecomm sector has run out (5) … steam, at least in the short term. We recommend that you cut (6) … on your exposure to this sector and switch to energy and retailing, which will fit in nicely (7) … the rest of your portfolio. Institutional investors are likely to fall back (8) these areas if the current market volatility carries (9) … I’ve attached a document with specific suggestions for your portfolio. When you’ve had a chance to go (10) … it let me know. If you agree with my recommendations I'll get on (11) … our brokers and they'll work (12) … the commission for buying and selling the stocks. By the way, thanks for dropping (13) … the other morning. Now I'll let you get on (14) … your work.
